Paley Rothman's Employment Law Group has a mission to help employers manage personnel and employment matters, comply with the law and preempt employment-related legal problems so that they can avoid or minimize costly disputes, litigation or liability. They partner with their clients to ensure that they recognize issues before they develop into more significant problems. They also encourage clients to take advantage of their training, educational, and audit capabilities.

Jim Hammerschmidt is Co-President of the firm, Chair of the Employment Law group, and a member of its Litigation and Appellate Practice groups.
