

FAQ: Where can I find more information on Government Contracting?

There is plenty of information on a number of government websites collected here.

SBA's website contains a wealth of information on eligibility, certification, contracting, and how to obtain free assistance for small businesses and disadvantaged businesses:

www.sba.gov

A database of Federal Business Opportunities (known as FedBizOpps) offers an extensive public list of current published solicitations:

<https://www.fbo.gov/>

The Federal Procurement Data System - Next Generation (FPDS) provides free comprehensive data on agency expenditures on government contracts:

www.fpds.gov

A breakdown of the NAICS work classification system and recent changes to the Codes can be found at:

<https://www.census.gov/eos/www/naics/index.html>

The Government Accountability Office website hosts a section dedicated to published, searchable bid protest decisions and related legal issues:

<http://gao.gov/legal/index.html>
